KINGSTON in Jamaica, September 30.

His Excellency Governor KNOWLES's SPEECH to the Honorable the COUNCIL and ASSEMBLY of this Island, delivered on Tuesday Sept. 26th, 1752, then assembled, at St. Jago de la Vega.

Gentlemen of the Council,
Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Assembly,

THE many important matters that require your immediate consideration, made me unwilling to protract your meeting, altho' it happened so suddenly after my arrival.

I am too sensible of the disadvantages I lie under in succeeding a gentlemen whose virtues and abilities have reflected so much honor on his majesty's government here, and rendered him so justly esteemed by all the true lovers of their country; I cannot hope to attain the same success, but I flatter myself I shall have your good opinion, from the integrity of my heart, and the ardent desire I have to promote the happiness and prosperity of Jamaica, and to preserve the present harmony and unanimity, so essential to the public good.

From my profession in a military capacity, I am enabled to form some judgment of the state of your fortifications, and I think it particularly incumbent on me, to recommend them to your most serious consideration, as a matter of the utmost consequence to the safety of this island. I know the misfortunes you have all lest by the late dreadful hurricane, and how unable you are to raise a fund sufficient to put them in a proper [illegible] of defence; at the same time, I am no stranger to your ability and zeal, with the legislature of Jamaica hath manifested upon all occasions, and therefore I will not doubt your contributing as much for this necessary service, as the circumstances of your country will permit; and for what more may be wanting, I hope you will join with me in a humble representation thereof to our sovereign, that his majesty may take the same into his royal consideration, and grant me such assistance as herein his wisdom shall judge expedient for your preservation.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Assembly;

You know the interest of your country so well, that I need not recommend the raising a proper supply for the exigencies of the government for the current year; I am persuaded you will raise such funds as will prove sufficient for the services you intend them, and with that tenderness and regard you have always shewn for the ease of the people.

Gentlemen of the Council,
Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Assembly;

Due to my royal master gratitude to the gentlemen of the assembly for the assistance they have given me in the execution of his majesty's commands, and I shall not fail to represent the same to him in the most favourable manner; and I hope by your advice and assistance, you will make me the happy instrument of continuing you an united people, and rendering this island the most flourishing of his majesty's colonies.

The Humble ADDRESS of the Council of Jamaica.

May it please your Excellency,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects the COUNCIL of this His MAJESTY's island of Jamaica, humbly beg leave, to offer to your excellency, our sincere congratulation on your safe arrival; and, at the same time, to return our thanks for your excellency's speech, at the opening of this session.

We cannot, too ardently, express our satisfaction on hearing your excellency so strongly declare your resolution to promote the welfare, and true interest, of this island: So auspicious a beginning, of your government, must warm even the coldest bosom; as it must, from the known abilities, of your excellency, offer the fairest prospect of continuing the happiness of this island an happy and united people.

The administration, of your predecessor, has been distinguished by so many shining proofs, of his attachment to the [illegible] of this island, of [illegible] the head in the most ge[illegible] and every well wisher to [illegible] hence, with the [illegible] the [illegible] of this island had [illegible] end. And I hope by your advice and assistance, you will make me the happy instrument of continuing you an united people, and rendering this island the most flourishing of his majesty's colonies.

To His Excellency CHARLES KNOWLES, Esq; Captain-General, Governor, and Commander in Chief, of his MAJESTY's Island of JAMAICA, and the Territories thereon depending in America, Chancellor, and Vice-Admiral of the same, &c.

The Humble ADDRESS of the Council of Jamaica.

May it please your Excellency,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects the COUNCIL of this His MAJESTY's island of Jamaica, humbly beg leave, to offer to your excellency, our sincere congratulation on your safe arrival; and, at the same time, to return our thanks for your excellency's speech, at the opening of this session.

We cannot, too ardently, express our satisfaction on hearing your excellency so strongly declare your resolution to promote the welfare, and true interest, of this island: So auspicious a beginning, of your government, must warm even the coldest bosom; as it must, from the known abilities, of your excellency, offer the fairest prospect of continuing the happiness of this island an happy and united people.

The administration, of your predecessor, has been distinguished by so many shining proofs, of his attachment to the [illegible] of this island, of [illegible] the head in the most ge[illegible] and every well wisher to [illegible] hence, with the [illegible] the [illegible] of this island had [illegible] we not to declare, That we shall at all times, most heartily and readily concur, in every measure, which can shew our duty to our sovereign, our zeal for your excellency's administration, and our attachment to the interest and liberties of the people.

Passed the Council, the 4th Day of October, 1752. J. REED, C.C.

To which His EXCELLENCY was pleased to make the following Reply.

Gentlemen of the Council,

I RETURN you my hearty thanks, for this very kind address; the satisfaction you express, at his majesty's conferring upon me the honour of this government, claims my most grateful acknowledgements.

BELIEVE me nothing in this world, can give me so much pleasure, as to see this island flourish, and the inhabitants an united and happy people.

Monday last his excellency, together with a committee of the council and assembly, viewed the fort and stores, &c. at Port Royal.

They were received under a discharge of the cannon from the fort and men of war, and about noon in the evening his excellency set out on his return to Spanish-Town.

Williamsburg, in Virginia, July 17. This day the ingenious Mr. THOMAS BELL, the famous American traveller, made his public appearance in this city.---As his former character and remarkable life, have made a great noise in every American colony, 'twill doubtless be a satisfaction to all who have any knowledge of him, to hear in what manner he has lived, during his retirement from the public.---He has resided in Hanover county, in this colony, near two years past, in the private station of a school-master, and has, during that time, behaved himself with justice, sobriety, and good manners, of which he has produc'd a certificate, signed by the principal gentlemen of that county. By this his behaviour, and his future conduct, he hopes to wipe off the odium that his former manner of life had fix'd on him, and thereby to approve himself an useful member of society.

Halifax, in Nova-Scotia, July 25. Since our last arrived here two snows from Holland, but last from Portsmouth, with Swedes and Germans, and more are daily expected, (it is said to the number of 1400.) And we hear that a considerable number of them are to be employed in works for the benefit of the government; and the remainder, with other Germans who are already here, will be sent to some part of Malagash this fall, to settle there, and clear land this winter, in order to take the first opening of the spring, to sow and plant such things, as shall be thought most necessary for the benefit of the inhabitants of this government. And as, by the best accounts we have had of that place, the soil is very fertile, and has been known to have produced great crops, we hope, that by this scheme, with the divine blessing, to have all kinds of vegetables of our own produce, and to have them cheaper than what we have done: Therefore it is hoped, for the good of this province, this proposition will not meet with any disappointment. The great encouragement that is offered for clearing and manuring our lands, must certainly be a strong motive to exercise their best endeavours in order to entitle them to partake of the benefit of it.

Gentlemen of the Council,
Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Assembly;

Duty to my royal master reminds me to recommend to you the means of the augmentation of the militia to that great and desirable end. And I hope by your advice and assistance, you will make me the happy instrument of continuing you an united people, and rendering this island the most flourishing of his majesty's colonies.

To His Excellency CHARLES KNOWLES, Esq; Captain-General, Governor, and Commander in Chief, of his MAJESTY's Island of JAMAICA, and the Territories thereon depending in America, Chancellor, and Vice-Admiral of the same, &c.

The Humble ADDRESS of the COUNCIL of Jamaica.

May it please your Excellency,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects the COUNCIL of this His MAJESTY's island of Jamaica, humbly beg leave, to offer to your excellency, our sincere congratulation on your safe arrival; and, at the same time, to return our thanks for your excellency's speech, at the opening of this session.
